PROFILE

Enthusiastic and dedicated media and television production student with a passion for storytelling and visual communication. I thrive in fast-paced environments and work well in teams. I love staying up to date with brand new trends and tech. I'm eager to jump into projects where I can put the skills that I've learnt over the past few years to good use and continue learning.

EXPERIENCE

University of Chester

2021 – 2024

Media and Television Production

During my time studying at the University of Chester I have had experiences with many different projects, from directing and producing short films to editing documentaries and podcasts. Each project has given me the chance to put my skills to good use. Aside from individual assignments I've teamed up with classmates on various group projects, combining our skills and ideas. One project was when we created a live studio show and we each had to direct a 10-minute segment.

I gained more experience with pre-production, from writing risk assessments and call sheets to developing scripts, storyboards, and shooting scripts. I've scouted for locations and liaised with many contributors which have been key responsibilities to make sure projects have progressed smoothly and according to schedule. With all the projects I have worked on during my time at the University of Chester I have further expanded my knowledge on industry standard software like Adobe Premiere Pro and Audition. These tools important for putting together footage I captured to create stories and to tweak audio clips together, they have been an important asset throughout my journey so far as a media producer.

During the two years I studied at Coleg Cambria I learnt the basics of both photography and filmmaking through hands on experience of producing short films and documentaries for assignments and helpful guidance from my tutors. I gained knowledge in capturing interesting images and putting stories together through a camera lens. Whether it was getting the perfect angle for a shot or playing with lighting set ups I was always keen on improving my skills further.

On top of the camera work, I also learnt about post-production techniques, I developed skills using Adobe Photoshop and Lightroom. Both software's allowed me to take an image and create something extraordinary. I was also introduced to Premiere Pro, Final Cut Pro X, and Adobe Audition. These tools allowed me to play around with footage that I captured and piece it together to make perfect films. Outside of the technical skills I had learnt, my time at Coleg Cambria was full of teamwork, creativity, and a sense of community. We bounced ideas off one another for projects and helped each other out with filming many scenes or capturing images.

WORK EXPERIENCE

F Blair LTD

September 2021 – February 2023

During my time working for this company, I assisted with taking phone calls from customers, preparing invoices to give to customers, I helped with delivering produce, and at the end of each day I worked I helped to count money that had been collected.

Bake n Bite LTD

May 2018 – September 2021

After I finished high school I began working at a café part time whilst I studied in college. There I got more experience taking orders from customers, using tills, cleaning up. Working here further expanded my customer service skills, as I had to deal with difficult customers which I'd never done before so it gave me more of an insight into how to deal with it correctly and in a professional
